

quarz sauvignon alto adige DOC

description:

Terlano's vineyards stretch from the gentle hills of the valley floor to the steep mountain slopes with their extreme growing conditions. Here the earth is endowed with rich mineral crystal deposits known to geologists as quartz porphyry. The distinct character, stunning depth and extraordinary longevity of this Sauvignon is largely attributable to the mineral-abundant soil.

trentino - alto adige

producer:

Terlano

tasting notes:

Golden straw colored, Quarz has a tremendous bouquet of hyacinth, freshly chopped herbs, lemon peel, grapefruit, ginger and wildflower honey. Tremendous terroir on both the nose and the palate where rich yet racy apricot, quince and grapefruit flavors are encompassed in underlying notes of bracing chalk, petrol and lime. The finish is very long, lovely and contemplative. Perfect with spicy seafood dishes, roasted fish in salt or herb crust, poached salmon, ginger-laced dishes, goat cheese and fresh spring peas or asparagus.
