

copertino riserva DOC

description:

Predominantly Negro Amaro with a small percentage of Malvasia Nera, Copertino is a delight. It has good acidity and supple tannins.

puglia

producer:

Copertino

grape varieties:

95% Negro Amaro and 5% Malvasia Nera

altitude:

30–100m A.S.L.

soil:

Clayey, sandy, tufaceous and red soil of medium consistency

alcohol:

13.00%

tasting notes:

Brick red and dense, Copertino has seductive aromatics of blackberry, spice, Maduro cigar leaf and smoked meats. It is medium bodied and surprisingly complex displaying well-integrated layers of leather, wild berries, cedar, tar, vanilla and soft spices. The long finish lingers with dried cherry and port like nuances. Perfect with pizza, burgers, red sauce and meat pastas and ideal with barbecue.
